

SCREE

Computer Sound
Transformation/
Transmission Unit

SCREE is a collaborative interactive instrument combining a programmable digital signal processing unit with a miniature radio transmitter.

As the performer and the listener collaborate, they engage with found environmental sounds, highlighting the creative loop that exists between them.

SCREE

Computer Sound Transformation/
Transmission Unit